

User story 1:

- As a client of the furniture company
- I can see all the available products
- So that I know what they are offering

Acceptance criteria:

- An image of the product is displayed
- The price of a single product is shown
- The characteristics of the product are displayed

User story 2:

- As a client of the furniture company
- I can see my basket
- So that I know what I am ordering

Acceptance criteria:

- I can see the total price that I need to pay for my order
- All the products that I order are displayed in a simple view

User story 3:

- As a client of the furniture company
- I can log in my account
- So that I can see my past orders and order some new ones

Acceptance criteria:

- Only his/her past orders are shown
- The total amount of each order (past and current if there is one) is calculated and displayed
- Orders page is not showed when a client is not logged in

User story 4:

- As a staff member
- I can manage our products
- So that they can be shown up to date in our website

Acceptance criteria:

- All the products are displayed with a complete information about them
- I can choose which product I want to change
- All the product information has a correct format
- I can create, update, delete every single one of them

User story 5:

- As a manager
- I can manage my workers
- So that they have up to date contract information, and I can hire or fire them

Acceptance criteria:

- All the staff is shown on my screen with a complete information about each of them
- I can choose which one I want to edit

User story 6:

- As a manager
- I can see aggregated data
- So that I can have a complete overview of how the company is doing

Acceptance criteria:

- It is shown aggregated data for sales and staff
- Been able to filter through the data