

User stories

Version table

Version	Start date	End date	Description
1.0	07.09.2022	16.09.2022	Add six user stories as follows (client able to see products, client sees his basket, log in, staff manager products, manager manages staff, manager sees aggregated data)
1.1	16.09.2022	21.09.2022	Split managing user stories into separated ones, add user story for sort

User story 1:

- As a client of the furniture company
- I can see all the available products
- So that I know what they are offering

Acceptance criteria:

- The price of a single product is shown
- The characteristics of the product are displayed

User story 2:

- As a client of the furniture company
- I can see my basket
- So that I know what I am ordering

Acceptance criteria:

- I can see the total price that I need to pay for my order
- All the products that I order are displayed in a simple view

User story 3:

- As a client of the furniture company
- I can put items in my basket
- So that I can later buy them

Acceptance criteria:

- I can see all the products and can choose which one of them to put in my basket
- I can see all the information for the product that I put in my basket
- I can add more than one product of the same type

User story 4:

- As a client of the furniture company
- I can remove items in my basket
- So that I don't order them

Acceptance criteria:

- I can see all the products in my current basket
- I can choose which one to remove and how much as a quantity to remove from it
- I can remove all my products from the cart at ones

User story 5:

- As a client of the furniture company
- I can sort all products
- So that I can feel the website more manageable

Acceptance criteria

- All products of the current category are shown and are used during sorting
- None of the products from the other categories are sorted neither shown

User story 6:

- As a client of the furniture company
- I can log in my account
- So that I can see my past orders and the current one

Acceptance criteria:

- Only his/her past orders are shown
- The total amount of each order (past and current if there is one) is calculated and displayed
- Orders page is not showed when a client is not logged in

User story 7:

- As a staff of the furniture company
- I can log in my account
- So that I can see and manage all the products

Acceptance criteria:

- Staff can't buy items
- Staff can't see the orders of the clients

User story 8:

- As a manager of the furniture company
- I can log in my account
- So that I can see and manage all employees

Acceptance criteria

- Manager can see all staff members
- Manager can manage the staff members

User story 9:

- As a staff member
- I can create product
- So that the website has growing collection of products

Acceptance criteria:

- I can see all the fields needed to create a product

User story 10:

- As a staff
- I can update products price and description
- So that all information of the products is up to date

Acceptance criteria:

- I can see all products available on the website now
- I can choose which one to update
- I can cancel the update before I officially make it

User story 11:

- As a staff
- I can delete products price
- So that we don't show products that we no longer sale

Acceptance criteria:

- I can see all products available on the website now
- I can choose which one to delete
- I can cancel the delete before I officially make it

User story 12:

- As a manager
- I can hire my workers
- So that the company can grow

Acceptance criteria:

- All the fields needed to hire a staff are shown when I choose to recruit one
- I can cancel at any time during the creation until the point that I accept I want to do it

User story 13:

- As a manager
- I can update my staff salary and contract end date
- So that they have up to date terms of contract

Acceptance criteria:

- I can see their previous contract information
- I can choose which thing I want to change also I can do both at once

User story 14:

- As a manager
- I can fire my staff
- So that I can release the people that are no longer needed by the company

Acceptance criteria:

- I still can see their previous contract information after I fired them
- I can see at which date I fired them

User story 15:

- As a manager
- I can see aggregated data
- So that I can have a complete overview of how the company is doing

Acceptance criteria:

- It is shown aggregated data for sales and staff
- Been able to filter through the data